

The Quality Policy

“It is our corporate objective to manufacture products and provide services which meet our client’s requirements as well as legal provisions. Our company feels particularly obligated to harness the state of the art to lay the foundation for a sustainable and hazard-free use of your products”

The quality of products and services lies in the responsibility of the management as well as any employee of our company.

They have committed themselves to establishing, applying and continuously improving a quality management system, which meets all of the company’s requirements and covers each work stage. This quality management system is the basis of continuous improvement of our products and services. Furthermore, the system guarantees a correct production procedure through adequate documentation.

To achieve constant improvement, management annually defines goals for corporate quality. The accomplishment of these goals is under constant review by the quality management.
